The Prodigal Son

A man had two sons. One day the ~~younger~~ son said to his father, "Give me the ~~the~~, ~~money~~ ~~you plan to give me when you die.~~"

So he gave him the money and the son left to go to a far country.

In the new land the boy wasted his money.
He had a big house and he had parties all the time.

After he had spent all his money, there was a great famine in the land. All of the food cost so much he could no get any. He became really hungry.

The boy went to a farm to get a job feeding the pigs. He had to eat the same food the pigs ate because no one would feed him.

Then he remembered his father and wondered, “I wonder how many of my father’s servants have extra bread to spare. I will go to my father and tell him that I have sinned against Heaven. I am no longer worthy of being called your son. Make me your servant.”

And he came to his father's house. When he was yet a long way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on him and kissed him.

“Father” said the boy, “I am not worthy of being called your son.”

The Father called to his servant, “Bring me the best robe and put it on him. And put a ring on his finger and shoes on his feet.”

"And bring the fattest cow and cook it. Let's all be happy!"

“For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found.”
